

HONG KONG

Hong Kong is situated on the southeastern coast of China and spreads out over 1,100 square kilometres (425 square miles).

The main areas are Hong Kong Island, Kowloon Peninsula and the New Territories. Hong Kong Island lies just south of Kowloon and the two are separated by Victoria Harbour. The New Territories lie north of Kowloon and run up to the boundary with mainland China.

As well as making up the bulk of Hong Kong's land mass, the New Territories also include more than 260 outlying islands.

Hong Kong was a collection of fishing villages when claimed as a crown colony by Britain in 1841. At that time it was described as a "barren rock", much to the amusement of today's property barons.

More than 70 per cent of Hong Kong's total area is rural, including about 40 per cent designated as protected country parks. This means Hong Kong has one of the world's highest ratios of designated parkland.

Hong Kong's visitors seek out a wide range of natural, cultural and cosmopolitan attractions. The most popular attractions during the past few years have included:

VISA REQUIREMENTS:

Indian nationals do not require a visa to be obtained for a stay of 14 days.

HOW TO GET THERE:

Hong Kong International Airport (Chep Lap Kok) is the only international airport

FLIGHTS INTO HONG KONG:

Direct Flights:

Air India and Cathay Pacific operate direct flights to Hong Kong

There are many other airlines which connect Hong Kong indirectly from India, namely Singapore Airlines, Malaysian Airlines, Thai Airways and Srilankan Airlines

CURRENCY

The Hong Kong dollar (HK$) is used here. There are 100 cents in a dollar. Coins, issued by the government, are bronze-coloured for 10 cents, 20 cents and 50 cents; silver-coloured for HK$1, HK$2, and HK$5; nickel and bronze for HK$10. Notes in denominations of HK$10, HK$20, HK$50, HK$100, HK$500, and HK$1,000. The Bank of China issues all of the denominations except HK$10. Traveller's cheques and USD/EURO could be exchanged for HK$ at foreign exchange counters in the airport and the city.

GETTING AROUND:

Public transport in Hong Kong is extremely good, covering the city and beyond with an extensive network of modern trains, ferries and buses. On Hong Kong island you'll also find an ageing network of trams - still efficient and one of the most picturesque ways to get around.

An integrated payment system is in operation. Called the "Octopuscard" it employs swipe card technology to allow you to pay for transport without using cash. You simply swipe your card at the machine on your chosen form of transport and the fare is automatically deducted from your credit.

You have to be planning on using a lot of public transport to make it worthwhile however. An octopuscard costs HKD150 (HKD50 of which is a refundable deposit, and HKD100 of which is credit). It is undoubtedly the simplest way to pay for services but is possibly only suited for longer stays or tours. Cards can be recredited using machines at transport hubs.

Hong Kong International Airport (Chep Lap Kok)

The super-modern Chek Lap Kok airport is considered one of the world's finest. Designed by British architect Norman Foster it was the fastest and largest construction project in the world, entailing the additional construction of a massive suspension bridge for transport to the city and the artificial extension of a tiny island to accommodate the airport. It is said to be the largest enclosed space in the world. Located 24 miles from Hong Kong, getting in from Chep Lap Kok airport isn't all that cheap, no matter how you do it:

Trains

Fast (very fast) and convenient, the Airport Express has three stops: Tsing Yi, West Kowloon and Central. Catch it from the Ground Transportation Centre near the exit. HKD180 for a return journey to Hong Kong Island; HKD160 to Kowloon.

Taxis

Cabs are expensive, and due to the congestion they aren't terribly fast. If you want to take a cab, make sure you catch one with a green roof for Kowloon and New Territories, one with a red roof for HK Island or a blue roofed one for Lantau Island. Budget around HKD380 for fares into downtown.

Buses

The airbus routes from the Ground Transportation Centre are all prefixed with an "A" (night bus routes are prefixed with an "N") and travel to a variety of convenient locations. Signs also indicate which hotels are served by which buses.

Dedicated airport buses are run by Cityflyer and Kowloon Motor Bus (KMB); fares range between HKD17-45 one-way depending on your destination.

Ferries

Ferry services operate between the airport and Tuen Mun in the New Territories between 06h00-22h00 daily at 30-minute intervals.

| Cities               | Kms | By Air  | By Train | By Sea  |
|----------------------|-----|---------|----------|---------|
| Hong Kong - Macau    | 40  | 20 mins | N/A      | 55 mins |
| Hong Kong - Shenzhen | 48  | -       | 1 hr     | 55 mins |

BUSINESS:

Sunday is the weekly holiday; Normal office hours are 9am-5pm on weekdays, and 9am-1pm on Saturdays. Major banks are open 9am-4:30pm on weekdays, and 9am-12:30pm on Saturdays. Closed Sundays and public holidays. The vast majority of shops are open every day throughout the year, some only closing during the Chinese New Year holiday. Many stores, especially in the tourist areas and hotels, are open all day and during evenings.

CLIMATE:

It enjoys a mild climate from the middle of September to the end of February, while the weather from May to mid-September is rather warm and humid. Eighty per cent of Hong Kong's precipitation occurs between May and September, with August registering the highest rainfall.

CLOTHING:

Hong Kong's subtropical climate means you won't be needing the winter woollies for most of the year. Loose-fitting cotton clothing generally fits the bill. The exception is from mid-December to February, when the mercury might fall to a mild 10oC (50oF). But even in the summer, it pays to bring along a light sweater - air-conditioning in some restaurants and cinemas is often turned up high. Rain showers are possible during the rainy season (around May to September), so also be sure to pack a light waterproof jacket.

TIME:

Hong Kong is 2 hrs 30 mins ahead of us

ELECTRICITY:

The standard electrical voltage in HK is 220 volts AC, 50HZ, so you will need an adaptor for your 100-volt appliances and electrical equipment.

DAILING CODE:

00 852

TIPS:

Most restaurants will levy a 10 per cent service charge but waiters will expect to be given some loose change. Restaurants that don't add a service charge will expect a 10 per cent tip. However, tipping is left to your discretion. Bellboys, porters, restroom attendants and taxi drivers will happily accept loose change

LANGUAGE:

The official languages are Chinese and English, with Cantonese the most widely spoken Chinese dialect.

CRUISES FROM HONG KONG

Star Cruises

Hit the high seas with Hong Kong's own Star Cruises, the world's third largest cruise company and an eight-time winner (since 1997) of the "Best Cruise Operator in Asia Pacific" award conferred by TTG Asia magazine. It operates a combined fleet of ships with 30,000 lower berths.

Costa Cruises

Leading European cruise line, Costa Crociere has set up its Asia division in Hong Kong and launched a series of seasonal itineraries with its newly renovated ship, Costa Allegra, started in November. Embark on a journey with Costa ships that create a dreamy atmosphere where guests can savour artistic living.

MUST SEES

Victoria Peak

There's a reason why The Peak is one of the most popular attractions in Hong Kong: It is absolutely incredible! Looking down from The Peak you'll be amazed by the spectacular view of the surrounding city skyline, the world-famous Victoria Harbour and Kowloon, towering skyscrapers and peaceful green hillsides.

Getting there is an unforgettable trip. There's nothing in the world like the Peak Tram. Pulled by steel cables, the tram climbs 373 metres (about 1,200 feet). It's so steep that the buildings you pass look like they're leaning at a 45° angle! Whether you're going up or coming down, you'll love this trip.

Madame Tussauds, Hong Kong offers visitors an unprecedented hands-on multimedia experience at its celebrity waxworks museum. The world-famous attraction now features more than 100 incredible wax likenesses of stars, world leaders and sports heroes displayed in five totally interactive themed settings that are spread over three floors within the completely refurbished Peak Tower complex.

Western Market, renovated in 1991 and converted into a shopping complex, is an Edwardian-style building featuring shops selling arts and crafts and fabric.

The Edwardian-style building, completed in 1906 has a red brick exterior with a handsome granite arch over its entrance. The market now houses shops formerly located in old alleys in the heart of Central, which sold all manner of cloth. The building is also home to traditional handicraft stalls and a number of cafes. The top floor is home to the Grand Stage where dance lovers can rendezvous and enjoy a romantic dinner.

Lan Kwai Fong

When the lights go down, the "in crowd" heads for Lan Kwai Fong, a buzzing centre of clubs, bars and restaurants. This cheerful warren of Western-style restaurants, nightclubs, delicatessens and bars is a must for night owls and people watchers. Lan Kwai Fong is an L-shaped, cobble-stoned lane surrounded by Central's cluster of skyscrapers. Nearby lanes are also buzzing with bistros and pubs in Hong Kong's trendiest nightlife area.

SoHo

Stroll along nearby Hollywood Road and you'll soon discover Hong Kong's "SoHo", the area "South of Hollywood Road". It offers a wide range of upmarket international restaurants and bars along Staunton Street, Elgin Street and Shelley Street. Jump on what Guinness World Records calls the world's longest covered escalator and experience the cosmopolitan atmosphere of this popular food district. Here you'll enjoy international fare from New Orleans to Nepal, Mexico to Malaysia, Provence to Portugal.

Jumbo Kingdom & Aberdeen

Feel like dinner amidst the sumptuous surroundings of a Chinese palace? Welcome to the Jumbo Kingdom, one of Hong Kong's truly unique attractions. Since its opening in 1976 as the Jumbo Floating Restaurant, it has excelled in the preparation of seafood for discerning diners. The restaurant, designed like a classic Chinese palace, can accommodate up to 2,300 people. Situated in Aberdeen harbour, the Jumbo is one of the world's largest floating restaurants and a tourist icon. The multifaceted Jumbo Kingdom has a "six-star" gourmet restaurant, which provides excellent quality food featuring traditional Chinese and modern fusion dishes, an open-deck cafe and restaurant, a wine garden and a tea garden.

Aberdeen

Aberdeen is a scenic highlight of any trip around Hong Kong Island. Brightly decorated trawlers, which double as floating homes for Aberdeen's fishermen, fill a sheltered harbour whose hillsides are decked with woodland and residential towers - not to mention Hong Kong's famously glitzy floating restaurants.

Take a trip in a sampan around the old harbour to soak up this unique and disappearing atmosphere. You'll see the huge floating restaurants, too - spectacularly lit up at night even if they're no longer quite as fine as they once were. Eating on the water surrounded by this strangely chaotic but picturesque scene is something you'll never forget.

Ocean Park

The 80-hectare (200-acre) park, situated on the southern side of Hong Kong Island, features thrill rides as well as amazing aquarium exhibits and performances by various sea creatures. A cable car system links the lowland and headland sections, offering spectacular views en route. New and fun-filled entertainment facilities are introduced from time to time and a major refurbishment is underway. In addition to the new giant pandas, Ocean Park recently unveiled a fascinating Sea Jelly Spectacular, featuring more than 1,000 sea jellies of all sizes from all over the world. The whole family will enjoy SkyFair, a thrilling balloon ride where you can soar more than 100 metres into the air for a breathtaking view of the majestic south side of Hong Kong. Other popular additions have been the Abyss Turbo Drop, the Mine Train, Amazing Amazon, the Flying Swing and the Film Fantasia Simulator Ride.

Open-Air Markets

Market shopping is a fascinating part of the Hong Kong experience. Visit the Ladies' Market in Mong Kok for inexpensive fashion items or Yau Ma Tei's Temple Street Night Market for anything from T-shirts to electronics. As well as souvenir markets, visitors can enjoy markets dedicated to birds and flowers.

Giant Buddha & Po Lin Monastery

No trip to Hong Kong would be complete without a visit to the world's tallest, outdoor, seated bronze Buddha which sits serenely atop Ngong Ping plateau amid the spectacular mountain scenery of Lantau Island. The eyes, lips, incline of the head and even the right hand (raised to deliver a blessing to all), combine to lend great depth of character and dignity to this extraordinary statue.

The majestic figure of the seated Buddha is 34 metres high, was cast in China and took over 10 years to complete. Weighing 250 tonnes, it was unveiled in 1993 amid deeply religious ceremonies. Visitors can climb the 268 steps to reach the platform where the Buddha is seated.

Besides attracting Buddhists from all over Asia, the magnificent figure with its compelling presence almost instantly transformed the remote Po Lin Monastery with its devout monks into a must-visit on tourist schedules. The Po Lin Monastery is set amid spectacular mountain scenery on the 520-metre high Ngong Ping plateau. Besides admiring the massive statue there is also much to see and do at the monastery itself with its various figures of gods and other colourful manifestations of aspects of the Buddhist religion. You can even enjoy a vegetarian lunch prepared by monks.

Hong Kong Disneyland

Hong Kong Disneyland invites visitors into the legendary fairytale kingdom that celebrates the spirit of fantasy, the world of tomorrow and a forever-young sense of adventure. Mickey Mouse will welcome you to the happiest place on Earth complete with attractions exclusively designed for Hong Kong.

Families visiting the Hong Kong Disneyland Resort will have magical journeys through four themed lands, namely Main Street U.S.A., Fantasyland, Adventureland and Tomorrowland, plus two Disney-style hotels. Hong Kong Disneyland will offer a diverse range of food at various restaurants in the park. In addition there are specialty stores selling Disney memorabilia and souvenirs in each themed land and at the two hotels.

Repulse

Bay

Repulse Bay is one of the most accessible and picturesque beaches on the south side of Hong Kong Island.

Sik Sik Yuen Wong Tai Sin Temple

Decorated in a riot of colours, Wong Tai Sin is an excellent example of a traditional Chinese temple. Yellow latticework and multicoloured carvings complement the temple's red pillars and golden roof.

In perpetuation of such an unselfish philosophy, the temple preaches three traditional religions - Taoism, Buddhism and Confucianism.

There is a small entrance fee to these areas, which are open from 9am to 4pm daily, apart from Monday. Other areas of the temple are open daily from 7am to 5:30pm.

Hong Kong Convention & Exhibition Centre

The Hong Kong Convention & Exhibition Centre is one of Hong Kong's defining landmarks, with its distinctive curved three-tier roof and vast expanse of glass walls creating a dramatic vista.

Stanley Market

A popular market town on the sunny south side of Hong Kong Island, Stanley's relaxed ambience, crisp sea environs and bargain buys have made it world famous. Seven days a week the open market around Stanley New Street and Stanley Market Road throbs with the passing parade of life as bargain-hunters from all over the world join in the fun of haggling with shopkeepers and stallholders after swooping on brand-name clothing and accessories, or simply irresistible souvenirs, ornaments and other Oriental knick-knacks. The market is open from 10:30am to 6:30pm.

Symphony of Lights

This spectacular multimedia display, already named the "World's Largest Permanent Light and Sound Show" by Guinness World Records, has been further expanded to include 44 buildings on both sides of Victoria Harbour. The show creates an all-round vision of coloured lights, laser beams and searchlights performing a stunning, unforgettable spectacle synchronised to music and narration that celebrates the energy, spirit and diversity of Hong Kong and is staged every night at 8:00 p.m.

There are five main themes – Awakening, Energy, Heritage, Partnership and the finale, Celebration. On festive days, special pyrotechnic displays launched from the middle of the harbour add extra sparkle to the show.

For the best view of A Symphony of Lights, take a harbour cruise or head to the waterfront promenades on either side of Victoria Harbour*. The show, organised by the Tourism Commission, is a must-see event on any visit to Hong Kong.

*Vantage Points:

1. Along the Tsim Sha Tsui waterfront between the Avenue of Stars and the Hong Kong Cultural Centre
2. On the waterfront promenade outside the Golden Bauhinia Square in Wan Chai
3. Aboard a harbour cruise**

Clock Tower

The old Clock Tower near the Star Ferry concourse in Tsim Sha Tsui is a declared monument and a landmark from the Age of Steam, when it formed part of the Kowloon - Canton Railway terminus.

Erected in 1915, the distinctive 44-metre red brick and granite tower is a graceful reminder of those Colonial times. But over many pre-war years it had far greater significance for innumerable of Chinese migrants for whom the former terminus was the conduit to new lives either in Hong Kong or by ship to distant destinations overseas.

Today, the site of the historic railway station is occupied by the Hong Kong Cultural Centre, its curving roof and futuristic features creating an unusual background to the Clock Tower.

Avenue of the Stars

Discover what makes Hong Kong the Hollywood of the East at this tribute to the professionals who have contributed to the territory's hundred-year history of filmmaking. The Avenue of Stars features commemorative plaques, handprints of movie celebrities, descriptive milestones, kiosks with movie memorabilia, a towering Hong Kong Film Awards statuette, and a life-size statue of the legendary kung-fu action star, Bruce Lee. The location on the Tsim Sha Tsui promenade offers incredible panoramic views of the famed Victoria Harbour and the memorable Hong Kong skyline. It is also a good place to watch the spectacular A Symphony of Lights, a nightly multimedia show with added pyrotechnics on special occasions.

Tsing Ma Bridge

The magnificent Tsing Ma Bridge, the world's longest span suspension bridge carrying both road and rail traffic, is the key connection between Hong Kong and its international airport on Lantau Island. The bridge is 2.2 kilometres long, with the main span measuring 1,377 metres. The towers supporting the bridge are 206 metres high with a clearance of 62 metres. Approximately 49,000 tonnes of structural steel was used in the construction of the bridge, which cost HK$7.14 billion to build. This was only 5% of the total cost of HK$155.3 billion for all the Airport Core Projects, acclaimed as one of the top 10 construction projects of the 20th Century - rivalling such projects as the building of the Panama Canal, the Anglo-French Channel Tunnel and the Golden Gate Bridge

The bridge consists of a six-lane open roadway with two railway lines and a two-lane road unclosed beneath. If a particularly severe typhoon strikes Hong Kong, and the bridge has to be closed to road traffic, the trains and some road traffic can still get back and forth to the airport with passengers and their luggage.

Opened mid-1997, this engineering marvel is now Hong Kong's proud new landmark, massively imposing by day, and a twinkling network of lights by night. The Lantau Link View Point and Visitors' Centre north of the bridge on Tsing Yi provide excellent views of this and two adjoining bridges.

Man Mo Temple

It is a picturesque tribute to the God of Literature (Man) and the God of War (Mo). The temple is located about halfway along the road and a stop in its quiet, incense-shrouded interior makes a pleasant break. You can see giant incense coils hanging overhead.

SHOPPING

Hong Kong is the haven for some great shopping and the options are immense. During the winter (late December to February) and the summer sale (July to September) major discounts are available for the avid shopper.

KOWLOON SIDE

Tsim Sha Tsui

The area has loads of department stores.

Granville Road

This is a must for all your bargain shopping as it is lined with factory outlets.

Griffon Street

The hotel Kimberly is on this street. This is one complete line of shops on either side and has some very good bargain buys. Shops like Baleno, Bossini dot the streets.

This street is a 15 min walk from the Tsim Sha Tsui Metro station and the walk enroute also has the Disney shop.

Ocean Terminal Shopping Mall

This is the largest covered Mall in the city. It is on Canton Road and starts from the Star Ferry Terminal from the Marco Polo Hotel and extends all the way to the other end in a straight line to the Royal Pacific Hotel. One can spend the whole day here and what is the USP here is that being covered one can shop here during any season and nothing can deter you !

Canton Road

This road is opposite Harbor City and is the best place to pick up all your designer wear, both local and international.

Mong Kok

Mong Kok is most famous for the hustle and bustle of its fascinating markets.

The Ladies' Market on Tung Choi Street in Mong Kok, is Kowloon's most popular day-long street market devoted to shoppers seeking bargain-priced clothing, accessories and household knick-knacks. Many stalls also sell items for men and children.

Mong Kok's Goldfish Market is a favorite source of supply of aquariums, which are perceived to bring good luck if correctly positioned according to fung shui principles in the house. Nearby is the favorite gathering place for Hong Kong's songbird owners, who meet at a Bird Garden situated in Yuen Po Street in Mong Kok. One of Hong Kong's most colorful specialist street markets, the Flower Market, offers sweet scents, exotic blossoms and fortune-bringing houseplants.

There is a metro station right in the middle of the market so its very easy to access. Come night and the whole place is transformed what with the neon lights and the sea of people.

A major part of the area is closed for traffic and is a pedestrian area. Just a point to remember here that you must take care of your bags !

Sham Shui Po

Sham Shui Po is renowned for its electronic gadgets. In Sham Shui Po you'll be able to pick up virtually any computer products at a competitive price. Apliu Street, also in this area, is a market with an abundance of character. Focused on nearly-new electronic goods, it's a good place to soak up the Hong Kong market experience and maybe even pick up a bargain. To go there, take Exit C2 from Sham Shui Po MTR Station.

HONG KONG ISLAND

The Landmark, The Galleria, Prince's Building, Alexandra House and the IFC mall are the main shopping centers, with designer shops and exclusive brand names in abundance.

Two parallel streets in Central known as "The Lanes", Li Yuen Street East and Li Yuen Street West are a riot of stalls hawking everything from inexpensive clothing, watches and costume jewellery to luggage and shoes. Situated between Queen's Road Central and Des Voeux Road Central, the market is open daily from 10am to 7pm.

Western District

Western Market in Sheung Wan is a handsomely renovated Edwardian building filled with Chinese handicraft stores and fabric shops. It is situated at the corner of Connaught Road and Morrison Street, Sheung Wan. The area to the west is famous for its small Chinese-style shops selling dried seafood and medicinal herbs.

Cat Street bazaar is best known for stalls and shops selling antiques, such as watches, old coins and stone carvings.

The area is also home to many interesting Chinese herbal medicine stores.

Admiralty

Admiralty too is famous for its brand-name luxury goods.

Pacific Place, one of Hong Kong's most popular malls, is the ideal place to go in this area. You'll find perfect gift ideas within its 130-plus outlets, including the Lane Crawford and Seibu department stores and top designer labels. Pacific Place is connected to the Admiralty MTR Station.

Wan Chai

Wan Chai's streets are steeped in history and offer an amazing range of shopping. Along Queen's Road East you can find a number of excellent rattan and Chinese furniture shops which will happily arrange to have your purchases sent home.

Spring Garden Lane is a great place to pick up clothes at very competitive prices. The market stalls exclusively sell products originally meant for export, meaning quality and price are very competitive. It also connects to local wet and dry markets, and so offers a multicultural experience in the heart of Wan Chai. Spring Garden Lane is in between Queen's Road East and Johnston Road.

Causeway Bay

Causeway Bay is known locally as "Little Japan" because of the major Japanese department stores in the area.

Shops specializing in shoes, electrical appliances and fashion for young people are found in abundance. Taking a stroll through the many shopping malls, including Times Square, Caroline Centre, World Trade Centre, The Lee Gardens, Lee Theatre Plaza, Fashion Island and Island Beverley, reveals a strong focus on fashion and food. In Square, in Windsor House, is known for a wide range of computer products.

Causeway Bay is full of surprises, with a mini shopper's paradise in its heart, sure to astonish. Jardine's Crescent is great for inexpensive clothing, accessories and domestic goods - and all at great value. Nearby, Jardine's Bazaar stocks traditional dried foods and bean curd (tofu). To get there, take Exit F from Causeway Bay MTR Station.

Stanley Market

Stroll through the markets at one of Hong Kong's most famous coastal areas. Stanley Market is a warren of stalls, shops and restaurants. Historic lanes are jam-packed with vendors selling Chinese paintings, handicrafts and furniture, silk collectibles, curios and a wide variety of Hong Kong souvenirs. Open from around 10:00am to 6:00pm daily

MACAU

Macau is a Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China since 20 December 1999, and, like Hong Kong, benefits from the principle of "one country, two systems". The tiny SAR is growing in size - with more buildings on reclaimed land - and in the number and diversity of its attractions. The greatest of these continues to be Macau's unique society, with communities from the East and West complementing each other, and the many people who come to visit.

LOCATION & AREA

The Macau Special Administrative Region (MSAR) is a part of China's territory. It is located on the Southeast coast of China to the western bank of the Pearl River Delta. Bordering on Guangdong Province, it located 60km from Hong Kong and 145km from the city of Guangzhou.

SIGHTSEEING OPTIONS IN MACAU

A-Ma Temple

Legend goes that Macau got her name from the deity A-Ma-Gau, the seafarer's goddess after whom the beautifully carved A-ma temple was built. This temple was built at the spot where the goddess re-appeared to the fisherman during the early 16th Century. The temple is worth the visit for its beautifully tilted roofs, spectacular views and lion dances on weekends.

Buses: 1, 1A, 2, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 10A, 11, 18, 21, 21A, 28B & 34

The Ruins of St Paul

For those who are keen to learn more about Macau's past a visit to the ruins of St. Paul is a must. What we see today at the ruins- the magnificent façade and the grand staircase was once part of the greatest church of Macau. A fire completely destroyed the church, leaving behind a symbol of architecture of the early Portuguese settlement in Macau

Buses: 2, 3, 3A, 5, 7, 8A, 10, 10A, 11, 18, 19, 21, 21A

Senado Square

In the heart of Macau, lies the fabulous Senado Square - almost straight out of storybook Europe. Most incredible is the pavement itself - a symphony of "waves" designed in typical Portuguese style. And in true European fashion, charming little streets extend from the Square into flea markets selling bags, clothes, snacks, antiques and other exciting items

Senado Square is just another example of the beautiful Portuguese heritage in Macau.

NIGHTLIFE IN MACAU

Nightlife in Macau is famous for its variety, its frantic pace and constant change. For night owls this is a city that never sleeps, with plenty of bars, shops and restaurants, as well as casinos, open all night long. Visitors will have no problem if they wish to get a delicious meal or go dancing in the middle of the night. There is a great variety of night entertainment in Macau. If you are looking for bars and pubs, you will find a great number of them along the Avenida Sun Yat Sen close to the Kum lam Statue and the Cultural Centre. With its picturesque location, facing the Outer Harbour and Pearl River, you can enjoy the music and the wine while watching the boats gliding by. The music is completely cosmopolitan, with bars throbbing to the rhythms of Brazil, Portugal, England, Africa and every part of Asia. Likewise the songs will come in languages from around the world. In some bars there are live bands performing at the clients' request, for instance in the bars and pubs of five star hotels like the Emperor Hotel, Holiday Inn and Mandarin Oriental.

SHENZHEN

Window of the World

The Window of the World is a theme park located in the western part of the city of Shenzhen in the People's Republic of China. It has about 130 reproductions of some of the most famous tourist attractions in the world squeezed into 480,000 square metres. The 108 meter (354 ft) tall Eiffel Tower dominates the skyline and the sight of the Pyramids and the Taj Mahal all in proximity to each other are all part of the slightly kitsch appeal of this theme park.

There are also a wide selection of international restaurants and mini exhibitions on famous figures from world history. Window of the World allows you to eat Mexican food, see the Niagara Falls then wander around Angkor Wat. The site takes at least half a day to explore and every day ends with a firework and laser show.
